Owner: Ted Lindsey.

Dev: the smartest dev that a baby can't afford to pay for his great service.

Auditor: unpaid reliable audit service, or any other free service that doesn't accept shit for payment.

Disclaimer! Never make any complaints if you guys can't find any shit images in this project, either inside this shitpaper or on the website, or in the telegram shitgroup.

No real babies were hurt during the minting of DYPR token.

Let's find out the shitonomics of the token!

Token name: Diapers

Ticker: $DYPR

Max supply: 100 DYPR (Capped, 10% for LP, 90% for Reward Pool)

Initial circulating supply: 10% (10 DYPR is locked inside LP, paired with 10 MATIC).

Network: Matic.

Is it another shitcoin?

Yes, sometimes real shit happens to me, to you, to anyone.

Is this a serious project?

No, it's a shitproject. (But it's developed seriously).

Can I get profit here?

Yes, but you can get rekt as well. Play at your own risk!

Can it be rugged?

No, liquidity is locked. Rugging a $10 market cap is a piece of shit, not worth doing.

Why is liquidity so small?

To make it easy to pump and dump. Anyone can pump or dump the price, but it's still enjoyable and less painful.

Why should I buy DYPR?

To keep the shit locked inside diapers before you throw it away.

Where are the remaining 90% of supply?

Inside the shitpool. Holders of DYPR can claim shitshares every 24hrs.

How much DYPR I can claim when my timer hits 0?

Depends on your holding. If you hold 1 DYPR then you have 1% share of the shitpool reward.

How is shitpool reward calculated?

Your holding is percentage of your shares to claim daily shitpot. Shitpot equals certain percentage of shitpool balance, calculated with certain algorithm to build sustainability. During first month you might be able to claim around 20% and it will halve into smaller percentage over the time. When price drops due to a dump, the shitpool will increase again and it also increase the shares you can claim.

Can the supply in shitpool increase?

Yes, but will never exceed max supply. When you sell DYPR, 37% of the sold amount will be transferred to shitpool.

Why should I hold DYPR?

To get qualified for claiming daily shares from shitpool.

Why don't we go through a presale with a good amount of token and accumulate millions of dollars?

Presale is a shit of whales, and good amount of token is another shit. What's the meaning of billions of tokens having zero value? Meaningless, isn't it?

Presale creates a gateway to dump the price once the market opens, so we open the gate from the beginning here and anyone can dump or pump right away as they wish.

Without presale the dev team can't get millions of dollars. Doesn't it mean you lose opportunity?

Why do people pay millions for a shit? Let them enjoy the cheap price on day-1.

Why don't you implement an Anti Dump Mechanism to protect the value of the token?

ADM is another shit, it's proven to fail to prevent any dumps. We let people dump or pump anytime they want. This shitproject is designed to provide fair entry to pump and dump. But never complain and accuse us of being liars if you can't dump easily when there's bigger demand on the market.

ShitPAPER

What are the fees?

3% fee on each buy or sell (2% for dev, 1% for project owner)

What a piece of shit, I don't need to buy DYPR!

Well, maybe you guys don't need it, but your babies need diapers.

Shit! You're wasting my time reading this shitpaper!

Yes, shit needs to be thrown away. Don't hold the shit because it smells bad, but prepare the diapers. Stop reading and go buy some DYPR!

~~~

Hey, close this shitpaper and understand the risk of throwing money into a shit. Not a financial shitvise, the whole crypto is a digital shit that can turn into real profit or getting rekt.
